RE: Significant Gift and Renaming of the School of Accounting

Today, we announced a significant gift to the Jerry S. Rawls College of Business and the School of Accounting.

Because of this gift from Terry and Susan Lyons, the School of Accounting has been renamed the Terry Lyons School of Accounting. Terry is a 1980 graduate of the Rawls College and serves on the Rawls College Advisory Council.

The Lyons family has been loyal supporters of Texas Tech University for more than 30 years. The gift announced today will fund student scholarships, support faculty research and expand industry connections.

We are grateful to Terry, Susan and their entire family for their generosity, which will have a lasting impact on Texas Tech and the Lyons School of Accounting.
